

PETER HAMILTON

GRAPHIC DESIGNER

Personal Statement

I am a 31-year-old designer living in South London. I currently work as a senior designer at Right Formula, a Sports & Entertainment Marketing Consultancy. I am design nerd (and a nerd in general) and I love learning and researching about all areas of design. I like to keep up with technology and get excited about the how the world is evolving, believing design and technology will help shape our lives for the better.

Skills: Photoshop, InDesign, Illustrator | After Effects, XD | Sketch Up, Animate

Right Formula
Senior Graphic Designer
2021 - present

My role at Right Formula is split into two main areas. Firstly, activation, which requires me to work with our account teams on client work, across print, digital and physical activation/stand artwork. This requires constant switching between different jobs and clients throughout the day. The second area is Commercial, this is mainly creating presentations in InDesign, and mock-ups for new business pitches. In addition, I also run the design team scheduling, ensuring quotes are correct and jobs completed, and am experienced in managing with last-minute client requests on a weekly basis (hopefully not too often!).
